In Memoriam.

Our dear mother, Melissa W. Fond, wife of J. P. Ford, died June 30, 1885, after a short illness of paralysis, which she hore with unmurmuring patience. The gentle and constant ministering of her devoted husband, the cheering visits of her much esteemed brother, the prompt and willing service of her three children, and the attention received daily from sympathizing friends and neighbors filled her heart with composure the tortures of a short disease. A loving husband, brother, and children and many kind friends followed her to her instructing-place and left her to the tender mercy of her God.

Farewell, mother, thou hast left us; Bad and lonely is my poor heart; Yet I trust that I will meet thee Where we shall never part.

Mother, dearest friend, farewell;
Thy memory your children will fondly cherish;
And when the storm of life is past

cherish:
And when the storm of life is past

24-inch SHACK RHAIZMINE, continetts make ) very heavy, reduced from $2 a yard to $1.60. THIS WEEK it will set for $1.15.

Oprisock of SLIKS) satility very heavy. We do not care to ho'd on to them. All SILK GOODS go at similar reductions. We will besides throw out Tails WEEK all such as have not met with havor florations. FIFTY CENTS OF THE DELAM would be about the correct quotation.

IF YOU DO NOT WANT TEN DOLLARS WORTH OF GOODS IT PAYS WELL TO BUY EVEN TWENTY-FIVE CENTS WORTH OF US. YOU MAY ONLY SAVE FIVE CENTS BY IT, BUT IT IS THAT MUCH MADE.

JUST NOW WE ARE NOT BELLING ANYTHING AT FULL VALUE, NOT EVEN THE GOODS WE RECEIVED YESTERDAY, WE DON'T LIKE TO DO THINGS BY HALVES.
